FITCH AFFIRMS BANKINTER TRANSACTIONS

Fitch Ratings-London/Madrid-11 August 2011: Fitch Ratings has affirmed 14 tranches of three Bankinter RMBS transactions. A full list of rating actions is at the end of this comment.

The rating actions follow the solid performance of the underlying assets. As of July 2011, the outstanding balance of loans in arrears by more than three months ranged from 0.3% (Bankinter 9 Series P) to 0.6% (Bankinter 7 and 12) of the current portfolio balance, while cumulative defaults ranged between 0.1% (Bankinter 7) and 0.4% (Bankinter 12) of the original balance. The reserve funds on all three transactions remain at the target amount, with the reserve funds of Bankinter 7 and Bankinter 9 Series (P) amortising.

The transactions have significant exposure to Bankinter, which acts as collateral servicer, notes paying agent, treasury account bank and interest rate swap provider in all three deals. On 6 July 2011, Fitch downgraded Bankinter's Long- and Short-term IDR to 'BBB+'/'F2' from 'A'/'F1' and withdrew the ratings. The downgrade and rating withdrawal means that Bankinter is no longer deemed an eligible counterparty under Fitch's counterparty criteria for notes rated 'AA-sf' and higher, without mitigants to counterparty default risk.

Fitch understands that Bankinter has obtained guarantees from Banco Espanol de Credito S.A. (Banesto; 'AA'/Stable/'F1+') to mitigate the exposure to the potential default of Bankinter in its role as treasury account bank in all three transactions. The agency has also been notified that cash will be swept from the collection accounts to the treasury accounts every two days rather than weekly as in the past. Bankinter is posting collateral to support its role as interest rate swap provider, in line with Fitch's structured finance counterparty criteria.

As of August 2011, the collateral posted was zero for Bankinter 7, EUR1.4m for Bankinter 9 and EUR2.6m for Bankinter 12. The collateral is being posted to an account which is also covered by the Banesto guarantee. The collateral amounts will be recalculated on a weekly basis and the amounts posted will be adjusted accordingly. Although Bankinter is not a Fitch-rated entity, the last rating action taken by the agency's financial institution's team suggests that the entity remains sufficiently creditworthy to perform these counterparty roles with these mitigants in place. Fitch will continue to monitor Bankinter's financial strength and may take rating actions on the RMBS transactions accordingly, if the agency's view of the bank changes.
