

News releases AMF: 2019

The Autorité des marchés financiers issues a public warning about the website www.holakredit.com

Published on November 22, 2019

The regulator issues a warning to the public regarding the activities of the website www.holakredit.com, which falsely claims to have a crowdfunding adviser (CIP) licence.

This platform has no legal licence as a CIP.

The AMF recommends that investors do not take up these solicitations and do not communicate them to third parties, in any form whatsoever.

Lastly, the AMF reminds investors and individuals responsible for marketing investment products to follow these safety guidelines before making any investment:

- no advertising materials should make you overlook the fact that high returns always involve high risk;
- learn as much as you can about the company or intermediary trying to sell you a product (authorisation/certification, company history, location of head offices, registration with ORIAS, etc.);
- invest only in a product you understand;
- ask yourself how, and by whom, the purchase price or selling price of the advertised product is set, and find out the precise terms and timeline for selling the product, especially in cases where the product invests in an asset class with low liquidity.
