KEY RATING DRIVERS

Steady Collateral Deterioration

Over the last 12 months the underlying portfolio has continued to deteriorate. The volume of gross defaults, defined as mortgages with 12 or more monthly payments overdue, is now between 7.8% (TDA 24) and 26.3% (TDA 28) of the initial pool, up from 7% (TDA 24) and 23.1% in July 2013.

Fitch notes that the majority of defaults are mortgages originated at the peak of the market by Credifimo, a specialist lender targeting mainly non-prime borrowers. Currently, the share of Credifimo-originated mortgages is between 16% (TDA 27) and 80.4% (TDA 25) of the current pool.

Fitch expects asset performance to remain poor as the deterioration of the Credifimo sub-pool will continue to negatively impact the overall asset pool.

Limited Recoveries

Credifimo has sold only a limited proportion of repossessed properties to date. Fitch observed a higher-than-sector average market value decline (MVD) of 65% on these properties following their repossession. The agency has adjusted its MVD assumptions in its analysis to reflect this. Given the steep discounts applied and illiquid housing market conditions, the agency expects that the sale of foreclosed properties will generate limited recovery income.

Increasing Principal Deficiencies

As a result of the large pipeline of defaults, the proportion of un-provisioned defaulted claims (PDL) has continued to increase and currently ranges between 10.6% (TDA 27) and 41.1% (TDA 25) of the outstanding note balance. This has also meant that the credit enhancement available to the rated notes has dropped significantly to the point that only the senior notes of TDA 24 and, to a lesser extent, TDA 27 have credit enhancement levels in positive territory. These considerations have led to the downgrade of the class A2, A3 and B notes of TDA 27 as the available credit enhancement is no longer sufficient to support the previous ratings.

Given the rapid increase of defaults, large PDLs and low recovery expectations, Fitch believes that the notes, especially the mezzanine and junior tranches, will be exposed to principal losses. As a result, the likelihood of default is deemed probable for all the notes - except for the senior tranches of TDA 24 and TDA 27 - as reflected in the 'CCsf' ratings. These drivers also led to the reduction of the recovery estimates for TDA 25 and 28 to 45% and 50% respectively.

RATING SENSITIVITIES

Recovery income below Fitch's stressed assumptions would result in negative rating actions.
