KEY RATING DRIVERS

Varied Asset Performance

Over the last 12 months late-stage arrears (mortgages with at least three monthly payments overdue) have decreased to now range between 0.9% (Rural Hipotecario 6) and 2.4% (Rural Hipotecario 9) of the current pool. Nonetheless, the pipeline of defaults, defined as mortgages with 18 unpaid instalments, have continued to increase and are now reported at between 0.6% (Rural Hipotecario 6) and 3.7% (Rural Hipotecario 9) of the initial pool, as mortgages in advanced arrears status (more than 12 months) default.

Rural Hipotecario 14, 15 and 16, which closed 12 months ago, have late-stage arrears between 0.1% (Rural Hipotecario 14 and 16) and 0.2% (Rural Hipotecario 15) of the current pool, and thus far have not reported any defaults as yet. Given the low level of arrears, Fitch expects defaults in the upcoming payment dates to remain limited for these three deals.

Rural Hipotecario 9 and 11 are the weakest in the series as the underlying portfolios comprise mortgage loans originated at the peak of the market and with more adverse characteristics. This led to severe reserve fund draws to the point that Rural Hipotecario 9 has nearly depleted its reserve fund, while the cash reserve of Rural Hipotecario 11 stands at 70% of its target balance. Fitch believes that asset performance will remain volatile over the next payment dates, as reflected in the Negative Outlooks on the notes.

The more seasoned transactions, Rural Hipotecario 6 and 7, have shown a more stable performance, mainly due to the high seasoning (around 130 months) of the portfolio and low average current loan-to-value ratio (approximately 43%) of the underlying loans. Given this, Fitch expects asset performance to remain in line with the trend seen to date. These drivers, in combination with sufficient credit enhancement, have led to the upgrade of the senior notes.

SME Mortgages

Fitch has applied more conservative default and market value decline assumptions to the portion (15%) of SME mortgages contained in Rural Hipotecario Global 1. These assumptions are reflective of the more volatile transaction performance seen to date. The analysis showed that despite the increased loss expectations arising from the portion of the portfolio, the credit enhancement available to the senior notes was found sufficient to withstand higher rating stresses, resulting in an upgrade of the notes.

RATING SENSITIVITIES

A revision of the structured finance 'AA+sf' rating cap for Spain could result in rating changes to the tranches at the sovereign cap.

A worsening of the Spanish economic environment, especially employment conditions, or an abrupt shift in the underlying interest rates might jeopardise the underlying borrowers' affordability.

More volatile arrears patterns, a rapid increase in defaults beyond Fitch expectations, and further reserve fund draws would trigger negative rating actions.
