ArcelorMittal prices Combined Offering of common stock and mandatorily convertible subordinated notes (“MCNs”)

Luxembourg, 10 January 2013 - ArcelorMittal (the “Company”) announces the pricing of its combined offering of ordinary shares and mandatorily convertible subordinated notes (“MCNs”) announced earlier today (the “Combined Offering”).

The total aggregate proceeds from the Combined Offering are approximately USD 4.0 billion (before deduction of commissions).

The ordinary shares offering represents an aggregate amount of USD 1.75 billion, representing approximately 104 million ordinary shares at an offering price of USD 16.75 (EUR 12.83 at a EUR/USD conversion rate of 1.3060) per ordinary share.

The Company also announces the pricing of the USD 2.25 billion offering of mandatorily convertible notes. The MCNs will have a maturity of 3 years, will be issued at 100% of the principal amount and will be mandatorily converted into ordinary shares of ArcelorMittal at the maturity of the MCNs, unless earlier converted at the option of the holders or ArcelorMittal or upon certain specified events in accordance with the terms of the MCNs. The MCNs will pay a coupon of 6.00% per annum, payable quarterly in arrears. The minimum conversion price of the MCNs will be equal to USD 16.75, corresponding to the placement price of shares in the concurrent ordinary shares offering as described above, and the maximum conversion price has been set at approximately 125% of the minimum conversion price (corresponding to USD 20.94).

The Mittal family participated by placing an order in the Combined Offering for an aggregate amount of USD 600 million, split as follows: USD 300 million of MCNs and USD 300 million of ordinary shares.

ArcelorMittal intends to use the net proceeds from the Combined Offering to reduce existing indebtedness. Deleveraging remains a priority for ArcelorMittal to retain strategic flexibility, and this offering, together with other initiatives, is expected to enable the Company to reduce its net debt down to approximately USD 17 billion by June 30, 2013 and accelerate the achievement of a medium term net debt target of USD 15 billion.

Goldman Sachs & Co is acting as sole global coordinator of the Combined Offering, and Goldman Sachs & Co, BofA Merrill Lynch, Credit Agricole Corporate and Investment Bank, and Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch are acting as joint bookrunners of the Combined Offering.

Settlement of the ordinary shares offering is expected to occur on or around January 14, 2013. Settlement of the MCNs is expected to occur on or around January 16, 2013. ArcelorMittal has applied to list the MCNs on the New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE"), subject to satisfaction of the NYSE's minimum equity listing standards with respect to the MCNs. There can be no assurance that such requirement will be satisfied. If the MCNs are approved for listing, ArcelorMittal expects trading on the NYSE to begin within 30 calendar days after the MCNs are first issued.
