Ratings On 88 Spanish RMBS And ABS Tranches Placed On CreditWatch Positive Following Sovereign And Bank Rating Actions

30-Oct-2015 13:58 EDT

View Analyst Contact Information

OVERVIEW

On Oct. 2, 2015, we raised to 'BBB+' from 'BBB' our long-term sovereign rating on Spain.

On Oct. 6, 2015, we subsequently raised our long-term counterparty ratings on Banco Santander and BBVA.

Consequently, we have today placed on CreditWatch positive our ratings on 88 tranches in 56 Spanish RMBS and ABS tranches.

MADRID (Standard & Poor's) Oct. 30, 2015--Standard & Poor's Ratings Services today placed on CreditWatch positive its credit ratings on 85 tranches in 54 Spanish residential mortgage-backed securities (RMBS) transactions and three tranches in two Spanish asset-backed securities (ABS) transactions (see list below).

Our updated criteria for rating single-jurisdiction securitizations above the sovereign foreign currency (RAS criteria) classify the sensitivity of these transactions as 'moderate' (see "Methodology And Assumptions For Ratings Above The Sovereign--Single-Jurisdiction Structured Finance," published on May 29, 2015). Therefore, we can rate classes of notes in these transactions above the rating on the sovereign, if certain conditions are met.

On Oct. 2, 2015, we raised to 'BBB+' from 'BBB' our long-term sovereign rating on Spain (see "Kingdom of Spain Upgraded To 'BBB+' On Reforms; Outlook Stable").

On Oct. 6, 2015, we subsequently raised our long-term counterparty ratings on Banco Santander S.A. and Banco Bilbao Vizcaya Argentaria S.A. (BBVA) (see "Banco Santander And Banco Bilbao Vizcaya Argentaria Upgraded On Spain Action; Outlook Stable; Some Banks Affirmed").

Such upgrades may lead to positive rating actions on the classes of notes listed below, due to the following reasons:

If the application of our RMBS or ABS sector-specific criteria--or our previous RAS criteria analysis outcome--caps our ratings on classes of notes at 'BBB (sf)' or above, and our previous analysis indicates that such classes of notes could achieve a higher rating following the application of our sector-specific criteria (see "Related Criteria" for sector-specific criteria articles).

If transactions feature Spanish financial entities acting as counterparties in accordance with our current counterparty criteria, and the recent upgrades of these entities trigger upgrades of classes of notes in these transactions (see "Counterparty Risk Framework Methodology And Assumptions," published on June 25, 2013).

If transactions feature foreign bank branches acting as counterparties in accordance with our current counterparty criteria, we may raise our currently assigned ratings due to the recent upgrade of the sovereign. Here, we would apply our criteria for determining the ratings on these bank branches located in Spain (see "Assessing Bank Branch Creditworthiness" and "Methodology Applied To Bank Branch-Supported Transactions," both published on Oct. 14, 2013).

Our ratings on classes of notes that could potentially be affected by the sovereign and related financial entity rating actions, but are either constrained for counterparty reasons or are on CreditWatch negative following the expiry of the extended counterparty remedy periods relating to counterparty rating actions that took place before the sovereign upgrade, are unaffected by today's rating actions (see "Related Research"). Similarly, our ratings on classes of notes that are currently rated 'BBB (sf)' due to the application of our sector-specific criteria are also unaffected.

We will seek to resolve the CreditWatch placements within the next 90 day, once we have completed further analysis.
