Fitch Downgrades Six IM Cajamar Tranches; Affirms 14 Ratings

22 May 2009 10:06 AM (EDT)

Fitch Ratings-London/Madrid-22 May 2009: Fitch Ratings has today downgraded six and affirmed 14 tranches of four IM Cajamar transactions. The agency has also revised the Outlook to Negative from Stable on eight tranches. The rating actions reflect Fitch's concern about the performance of the deals, as well as the impact of the current macroeconomic environment in Spain on the future performance of the transactions. A full list of rating actions is provided at the end of this comment.

As noted in a Fitch comment on 30 March 2009, as of the last payment date, in March 2009, three of the transactions - IM Cajamar 3, 4 and 6 - had drawn on their reserve funds. The reserve fund draws occurred due to an increase in the volume of defaulted loans being provisioned for. Based on the monthly delinquency data and the loan-by-loan breakdown of the pool, Fitch believes that further defaults will continue to be realised and that further reserve fund draws are likely to occur on the three deals that have drawn to date. The agency also believes that IM Cajamar 5 is likely to experience reserve fund draws during forthcoming payment dates.

The overall volume of loans in arrears in March 2009 decreased across all four deals, however, loans in arrears by more than three months as a percentage of the outstanding portfolios continue to increase on the two more recent transactions, IM Cajamar 5 and 6. According to the most recent reports, loans in arrears by more than three months ranged between 0.89% (IM Cajamar 4) and 2.5% (IM Cajamar 6) of the respective portfolios. However the agency has concern over the performance of the underlying portfolio of IM Cajamar 6, especially given the low seasoning of the deal (13 months). Cumulative net defaults to date stand between 0.18% (IM Cajamar 5) and 0.65% (IM Cajamar 3) of the original portfolio. The agency's expectation for recovery timing in Spain is three years, therefore recoveries are not expected on these transactions in the near term.

The underlying collateral of the transactions are residential mortgage loans originated by Caja Rural Intermediterranea Sociedad Cooperativa de Credito (Cajamar) with current weighted average loan-to-value (LTV) ratios ranging from 60.97% (IM Cajamar 4) to 66.95% (IM Cajamar 3), as calculated by Fitch. Based on the loan-by-loan analysis of the pool, Fitch found that the defaulted loans are seeing much higher LTV ratios (between 65% and 74%), and that such loans carry higher margins (between 1.1% and 1.25%, compared to the weighted average margins seen on the overall pools which are in the range of 0.81% to 0.86%). Over 40% of the outstanding portfolios are to borrowers in Andalusia, where the main office of Cajamar is located, while the majority of defaulted loans in the pools (with the exception of IM Cajamar 6) were made to borrowers in the Murcia region (ranging between 44% and 72%).
