OVERVIEW

- Over the past two years, we have observed a stabilization of the delinquency levels in the portfolio. Arrears levels have been stable since March 2010, and cumulative defaults are 2.51% of the initial balance.
- However, at the structural features level, the reserve fund has been fully depleted since September 2010, and no replenishments have taken place since then. The class C notes are undercollateralized and, on the last payment date, a principal deficiency of €23.9 million was recorded.
- We have lowered our ratings on all classes of notes.
- BBVA originated and currently services the loans backing this Spanish RMBS transaction, which closed in March 2007.

MADRID (Standard & Poor's) July 4, 2012--Standard & Poor's Ratings Services today lowered its credit ratings on all classes of BBVA RMBS 2 Fondo de Titulizacion de Activos' residential mortgage-backed notes (see list below).

The portfolio securitized mortgages granted to individuals in Spain for the acquisition of residential properties, with a weighted-average loan-to-value ratio of 76.67% at closing. These loans were originated by Banco Bilbao Vizcaya Argentaria S.A. (BBVA).

Over the past two years, we have observed a stabilization of the delinquency levels in the portfolio backing this transaction. The bucket of 180+ day delinquencies has decreased compared with the levels experienced in July-November 2009 (a peak of 0.73%). From 60 days delinquent up to default (12 months in arrears), arrears levels have been stable since March 2010, and are below 0.4%. During the past year, arrears of 90+ days up to default have increased by only 13 basis points (bps).

Although the performance has not worsened during the past year, some structural features have had an impact on today's rating decisions, as outlined below.

The reserve fund has been fully drawn since the September 2010 interest payment date, and has not been replenished since then. In addition, the class C notes are undercollateralized by €22.4 million, weakening the credit enhancement provided by subordinated notes to senior notes. On the last payment date (June 20, 2012), the class A2 notes were partially amortized, and registered a principal deficiency of €23.9 million. All of these factors have driven today's downgrades of all the notes in this transaction.

The transaction features interest-deferral triggers, based on cumulative defaults. Interest on the notes is deferred if cumulative loans in default are more than 12% of the initial balance of the mortgages for class B, and 10% for class C. Given that the level of cumulative defaults over the original balance is 2.51% as of May 31, 2012, we consider that interest on the junior classes of notes will not be postponed in the near future.

Because our issuer credit rating (ICR) on BBVA is BBB+/Negative/A-2, it posted collateral in May 2011 to comply with the downgrade language defined in the transaction documentation. The swap counterparty will have the obligation to be replaced if it is downgraded below 'A-2'. As BBVA is the swap counterparty, and not considering other factors, the maximum rating achievable in the transaction is 'A-', which is equal to the ICR on the counterparty plus one notch. However, we have downgraded the class A notes to 'BBB+ (sf)' due to performance, and there are no constraints on the ratings due to counterparty risk of the transaction parties.

BBVA is no longer eligible as bank account provider for this transaction, and it is therefore looking for a guarantor or a substitute. If BBVA does not replace itself with an eligible counterparty in accordance with our criteria, the maximum rating achievable would be equal to the ICR on BBVA, which as of today is the same as the actual rating on the most senior notes (BBB+).
