Spanish Multi-Cedulas Rating Actions As Of Aug. 6, 2012

On Aug. 6, 2012, Standard & Poor's Ratings Services lowered its credit ratings in seven Spanish multi-cédulas transactions and affirmed its ratings in another two. At the same time, we removed our ratings in all nine transactions from CreditWatch negative, where we placed them on May 23, 2012.

Today's rating actions reflect mainly an increase in credit risk that we have seen in the multi-cédulas transactions driven by the rating actions or credit estimate revisions on Spanish financial institutions issuing the cédulas (the "cédulas issuers") that have taken place in the first half of 2012. In addition, newly assigned ratings to some cédulas issued by a number of the underlying participants benefitted a few of these transactions. However, this didn't translate into upgrades because rising credit and concentration risks outweighed any positives gained from new covered bond ratings.

For the related media release, see "Various Rating Actions Taken In Nine Spanish Multi-Cedulas On Increased Credit Risk."

Table 1 below provides the transaction names, series, and ratings for the affected Spanish transactions.
