

5 August 2007 – Joint statement ABN AMRO and Consortium of RBS, Santander and Fortis

Joint statement ABN AMRO and Consortium of RBS, Santander, Fortis.

ABN AMRO and the consortium of RBS, Santander and Fortis have noted and discussed the recent media reports about the current offer situation.

The consortium accepts the assurances by ABN AMRO that Mr Groenink was misquoted as having given advice how to vote to Fortis Shareholders which in fact he did not.

Furthermore ABN AMRO and the consortium have agreed to continue a constructive dialogue to resolve any outstanding questions regarding the offer of the consortium for ABN AMRO, and to maintain a level playing field.

Further meetings will be organised for the Consortium with the appropriate people within ABN AMRO to discuss specific business matters.

The consortium and ABN AMRO both confirm that there is no dispute about the profitability of the Business Unit The Netherlands.

Forward-Looking Statements

This announcement includes certain "forward-looking statements". These statements are based on the current expectations of the Banks and are naturally subject to uncertainty and changes in certain circumstances. Forward-looking statements include any synergy statements and, without limitation, other statements typically containing words such as "intends", "expects", "anticipates", "targets", "plans", "estimates" and words of similar import. By their nature, forward-looking statements involve risk and uncertainty because they relate to events and depend on circumstances that will occur in the future. There are a number of factors that could cause actual results and developments to differ materially from those expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. These factors include, but are not limited to, the presence of a competitive offer for ABN AMRO, whether the Banks and ABN AMRO enter into any definitive agreement with respect to the potential acquisition of ABN AMRO or the potential acquisition of LaSalle, satisfaction of any pre-conditions or conditions to the potential transaction, including the successful acquisition of LaSalle and receipt of required regulatory and anti-trust approvals, the successful completion of the offer or any subsequent compulsory acquisition procedure, the anticipated benefits of the potential transaction (including anticipated synergies) not being realized, the separation and integration of ABN AMRO and its assets among the Banks being materially delayed or more costly or difficult than expected, as well as additional factors, such as changes in economic conditions, changes in the regulatory environment, fluctuations in interest and exchange rates, the outcome of litigation and government actions. Other unknown or unpredictable factors could cause actual results to differ materially from those in the forward-looking statements. None of the Banks undertake any obligation to update publicly or revise forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except to the extent legally required.
