

October traffic note 2011

Vueling increases by 10.5% the number of passengers carried in October

The company increases its load factor by 1.8 points year-on-year, reaching a 76.8% load factor

Barcelona, 9th November 2011. – Vueling, the new generation airline, has carried 1,079,206 passengers in October 2011. This represents a 10.5% increase compared to October 2010. The company has reached a load factor of 76.8%, 1.8 points higher than last year.

The main traffic figures are the following:

	October
	2011	2010	Var.
Number of flights	8,128	7,375	10.2%
ASK ('000)	1,235,847	1,194,504	3.5%
RPK ('000)	949,198	896,007	5.9%
Load factor (RPK/ASK)	76.8%	75.0%	1.8pp
Passengers ('000)	1,079	977	10.5%

ASK (available seat-kilometre): number of seats flown multiplied by the number of kilometres flown

RPK (revenue passenger kilometre): number of passengers carried multiplied by the number of kilometres flown

Connecting flights and new bases

Vueling continues its growth driven by the new international bases in Toulouse and Amsterdam and the Vueling-Vueling connecting flights in Barcelona and Vueling-Iberia connecting flights in Madrid and Barcelona. The winter season started on the 31st of October, Vueling plans to increase the number of seats offered by 8% during this winter season. This increase includes the launch of 5 new routes from Barcelona airport.

NOTE: The present document is a translation of a duly approved document in the Spanish-language, and it is only for informational purposes. Should there be a discrepancy between the present translation and the original document in Spanish-language, the text of the original Spanish-language document shall always prevail.

Para más información:

Vueling Airlines, SA
 +34 93 378 77 16
 Investors@vueling.com