The Representative, once the issue is subscribed, will convene the General Noteholders' Meeting, which must approve or censure his/her management, confirm him/her in the post or appoint his/her substitute and establish the final internal regulations that will govern the Syndicate according to the provisions of the issue contract.

Article VI. Resolutions – All resolutions shall be passed by absolute majority amongst those attending the meeting, as long as they represent two-thirds of the Notes in circulation. The resolutions shall be binding on all Noteholders, including those who do not attend the meeting or voted against the motion. Each Note shall entail the right to one vote. The Chairman shall hold the casting vote in the event of deadlock, should the Chairman be a Noteholder. Should two-thirds of the Notes in circulation not be represented at the meeting, it may be re-convened for one month later, when the resolutions shall be passed by an absolute majority amongst those attending. Said resolutions shall be binding on the Noteholders in the same manner as above.

However, the General Meeting's resolutions may be contested by Noteholders in cases established by Law.

Article VII. Proxies – Noteholders may delegate their representation to a proxy, who may or may not be a Noteholder, by a special letter of proxy for each meeting.

Article VIII. Call to meeting – The General Noteholders’ Meeting shall be convened by the Issuer’s Directors or the Representative whenever deemed useful for the defence of the Noteholders’ interests or the examination of propositions made by the Issuer’s Board of Directors.

The Board of Directors of the Issuer may require the attendance of the Issuer’s Management which shall attend, even if they have not been convened.

The meeting shall be convened by publishing a notice in the national press or media at least 10 days beforehand. When the General Meeting must deal with or resolve on issues related to the amendment of conditions of issue or others the Representative deems of similar importance, it shall be convened within the time limits and according to the requirements established under article 97 of the Spanish Company Act for General Shareholders Meetings.

The above notwithstanding, the General Meeting shall be deemed to have been validly convened and constituted to deal with any issue provided all the Noteholders are present and unanimously accept it should be held.

Article IX. Right of attendance – All Noteholders proving ownership of their Notes five days prior to the date of the General Meeting shall be entitled to attend, speak and vote at the meeting. Should the Notes be held in usufruct, the usufructuary shall be entitled to the same interests and other rights as the original owner. And should they be held under pledge, the Noteholder shall be entitled to exercise all the rights, the pledgor facilitating their exercise to the pledgee until the pledge be acquitted.

In the event of absence or illness, the Representative shall be substituted by the Noteholder that he/she names and, should none be named, the Noteholder with the highest number of Notes, until the General Meeting resolves to name another, should it do so.

The above notwithstanding, should a substitute Representative be appointed, he/she shall stand in as substitute in the event of illness or absence.

Article XIII. Proceedings – Proceedings and/or suits affecting the collective or general interest of Noteholders may only be arranged in the Syndicate's name when the Noteholders' General Meeting has authorised them, and shall be binding on all Noteholders without distinction. Nonetheless, statutory legal rights to contest the resolutions taken by the General Meeting are sustained.

Any Noteholder wishing to take such suit must put it to the Representative who, should he/she deem that grounds exist for considering the proposal, shall convene the General Meeting.

Should the General Meeting reject the Noteholder's proposal, no Noteholder may take it as an issue of personal interest to the Courts of Justice, unless there is a clear contradiction with the resolutions and regulations of the Syndicate.

Article XIV. Noteholders' Conformity – Subscription or possession of Notes entails the Noteholder's full ratification of the issue contract, membership of the Syndicate and acceptance of these regulations and conformity with said Syndicate having full legal liability to all effects.

ANNEX 3

(This Annex forms part of the Final Terms to which it is attached)

For the information of potential purchasers: the Notes have a financial structure embedded to provide for the Automatic Early Redemption amounts, for the Fixed Coupon Amounts and for the Final Redemption Amount. This financial structure can be understood as that of a security for which its implicit interests are used for the buying of 5 binary options and for the selling of one put option which underlying is the Index. The return and early redemption of the Notes will be a result of the combination of all those options:

- a) First Option (relative to Automatic Early Redemption Date<sub>1</sub>): a binary option bought on the Index, with maturity date the Valuation Date<sub>1</sub>, and strike price equal to Index<sub>0</sub>: the option will only be exercised if Index<sub>1</sub> is higher than or equal to Index<sub>0</sub>. In case the option is exercised, the pay-off of the option will be 0% of the Specified Denomination, and the rest of the options will be deactivated (and the Notes will be automatically redeemed at an amount equal to Specified Denomination * 100%). Otherwise, the Notes will not be early redeemed and the Notes will remain life.
- b) Second Option (relative to Automatic Early Redemption Date<sub>2</sub>): a binary option bought on the Index, with maturity date the Valuation Date<sub>2</sub>, and strike price equal to Index<sub>0</sub>: the option will only be exercised if Index<sub>2</sub> is higher than or equal to Index<sub>0</sub>. In case the option is exercised, the pay-off of the option will be 0% of the Specified Denomination, and the rest of the options will be deactivated (and the Notes will be automatically redeemed at an amount equal to Specified Denomination * 100%). Otherwise, the Notes will not be early redeemed and the Notes will remain life.
- c) Third Option (relative to Interest Payment Date<sub>1</sub>): a binary option bought on the Index, with maturity date the Valuation Date<sub>1</sub>, and strike price equal to 60% of Index<sub>0</sub> ("Strike"): the option will only be exercised if Index<sub>1</sub> is higher than or equal to the Strike. In case the option is exercised, the pay-off of the option will be 11.00% of the Specified Denomination (EUR 5,500 per Specified Denomination). Otherwise, the Notes will pay a Fixed Coupon Amount equal to 0 (nil).
- d) Fourth Option (relative to Interest Payment Date<sub>2</sub>): a binary option bought on the Index, with maturity date the Valuation Date<sub>2</sub>, and strike price equal to 60% of Index<sub>0</sub> ("Strike"): the option will only be exercised if Index<sub>2</sub> is higher than or equal to the Strike. In case the option is exercised, the pay-off of the option will be 11.00% of the Specified Denomination (EUR 5,500 per Specified Denomination). Otherwise, the Notes will pay a Fixed Coupon Amount equal to 0 (nil).
- e) Fifth Option (relative to Final Redemption Amount): a binary option bought on the Index, with maturity date the Valuation Date<sub>3</sub>, and strike price equal to 60% of Index<sub>0</sub> ("Strike"): the option will only be exercised if Index<sub>3</sub> is higher than or equal to the Strike. In case the option is exercised, the pay-off of the option will be 11.00% of the Specified Denomination (EUR 5,500 per Specified Denomination). In case this option is exercised, the redemption of the Notes will be Specified Denomination * 111.00%.

f) Sixth Option (relative to Final Redemption Amount): a put option with knock-in sold on the Index, with maturity date the Final Valuation Date and strike price equal to 100% of  $Index_0$ . The option will only be activated if  $Index_3$  on the Final Valuation Date is lower than 60% of  $Index_0$  ("Strike"). In case the option is activated, the option will be exercised and as a result, the investor will lose, per Specified Denomination, and amount equal to:

which will be subtracted from the redemption of the Notes. In case the option is not activated, the redemption of the Notes will be Specified Denomination * 111.00%.

The estimated value of the premiums of the above described options is 1.7% (this means EUR 850 per Note of EUR 50,000 Specified Denomination).

These premiums are embedded in the Issue Price of the Notes.
