

THE CNMV PUBLISHES A PODCAST WITH THE TITLE “LAS CUENTAS QUE DA LA VIDA” (THE ACCOUNTS OF LIFE), WITH FINANCIAL EDUCATION CONTENT

16 September 2020

- The first series has six episodes and the aim is to explain complex financial terms in a simple and effective way
- The podcasts can be downloaded from the following platforms: Voox, Spotify, IOS podcasts and Google Podcasts

The Spanish National Securities Market Commission (CNMV) has today published “Las Cuentas que da la vida” (The accounts of life), which is a podcast series intended to offer complex financial terms in a simple and effective way, within the framework of the CNMV’s activities to promote and improve financial education for investors.

These podcasts reflect everyday situations of a family and their relationship with financial matters and decisions taken on a daily basis. The following topics are covered in the first series:

- What is the CNMV?
- Investor psychology
- Financial boiler rooms
- Know the investor’s profile
- Risk-return binomial
- Fixed income and securities

The contents are available on and can be downloaded from the CNMV’s website to any mobile device through different platforms such as iVoox, Spotify, IOS podcasts and Google Podcasts.

Through the use of this format, the CNMV wishes to offer financial education materials to new target groups that normally use audiovisual tools, thus providing them with financial information in a simple way so that they comprehend the terms and have the knowledge required to take investment decisions.