RIGHT OF ATTENDANCE

Shareholders holding at least 400 shares may attend the General Meeting, provided that such shares are registered in their name in the corresponding shareholders registry book at least five days in advance of the date of the General Meeting that is, on April 21st, 2023, and that they can prove this circumstance by means of the appropriate Attendance, Proxy and Voting Card, issued by the institution where their shares are deposited or, failing this, by the Company itself. Shareholders holding fewer than 400 shares may group together with other shareholders in the same situation, until they reach the number of shares required to attend the meeting and must appoint one of them as their proxy. The grouping of shares must be arranged specifically for this General Meeting and must be formally established in writing by any means that allows it to be evidenced.

The shareholder representing the grouped shareholders must contact the Shareholders' Office to obtain an Attendance, Proxy and Voting Card that includes all of them, upon presentation of the relevant proxies duly signed.

REPRESENTATION AND VOTING RIGHTS

Shareholders entitled to attend may be represented at the General Meeting by another person, even if such person is not a shareholder. The representation may be granted by means of the proxy form included in the Attendance, Proxy and Voting Card or by any other method permitted by law.

Shareholders holding fewer than 400 shares may delegate the representation of their shares and the exercise of their voting rights to a shareholder entitled to attend the General Meeting, through any of the procedures set out in this notice of call.

Split voting is permitted, so that professional financial intermediaries who appear as legitimate shareholders but act on behalf of different clients may cast their votes in accordance with the instructions of these latter, even if such instructions are different. The financial intermediary may also delegate the vote to a third party designated by the client, without limitation as to the number of proxies granted.

Those intermediaries who are granted proxies must submit to Atresmedia Corporación, within seven days before the date scheduled for the Meeting, a list indicating the identity of each client and the number of shares in respect of which they are exercising their voting rights on their behalf, as well as the voting instructions that the intermediary has received.

In such cases, the proxy shall vote in accordance with the instructions received from the shareholder and, in the absence thereof, it shall be deemed that such shareholder has given precise instructions to vote in favour of the proposals made by the Board of Directors, even in the case of a conflict of interest. In the event that other matters not included in the agenda of this Notice of Call are put to vote, the proxy shall be extended to such proposals, unless otherwise instructed by the shareholder. In the absence of any instructions, it shall be understood that the shareholder has given the proxy a precise instruction to vote against the new proposals, also in cases of conflict of interest.

COMMON RULES FOR THE EXERCISE OF PROXY AND VOTING RIGHTS USING REMOTE COMMUNICATIONS CHANNELS

1.- Deadline for receipt by the Company and proof of shareholder status

Proxies and votes cast by remote means of communication means (whether by online means or by postal correspondence) must: (i) be issued through the specific link created ad hoc for this General Meeting on the Company's corporate website, or (ii) be received at the registered office, either directly or through the banking institution acting as custodian of the shares. In both cases, the minimum notice required shall be 24 hours before the holding of the General Meeting, i.e. before 17:00 hours on 25th April, 2023. The Company shall check whether the ownership and number of shares attributed to the shareholder exercising his/her proxy or voting rights are correct, on the basis of the data available at Sociedad de Gestión de los Sistemas de Registro, Compensación y Liquidación de Valores, S.A. (Iberclear) or the Record Book of Shareholders, as appropriate.

2.- Rules of precedence

The personal attendance at the Meeting of a shareholder who has granted a proxy or cast a vote via remote means of communication, irrespective of the method used, shall render such proxy or vote null and void. In the event that the shareholder grants several proxies or casts several votes (whether electronically or by post), the action (proxy or vote) last taken prior to the holding of the General Meeting shall prevail. If there is no certainty as to when the shareholder granted any of the proxies or cast any of the votes, the exercise of the voting rights (regardless of the means used to cast such vote) shall prevail over the proxy. If the shareholder has cast several votes in different senses, either online or by post, the last vote cast prior to the holding of the Meeting shall prevail.

3.- Electronic signature

To ensure the authenticity and correct identification of the shareholder exercising his or her representation or voting rights, the shareholder must have an electronic national identity card or a recognised electronic user certificate, valid and in full force, issued by any of the following providers of certification services: CERES (Fábrica Nacional de Moneda y Timbre-Real Casa de la Moneda) and CAMERFIRMA.

Remote voting and delegation shall also be permitted by means of any other method that the Chair of the Board of Directors deems appropriate to guarantee the identification of the shareholder and the authenticity of the exercise of his / her rights.

4.- Other provisions

- Both the casting of votes and the granting of proxies by remote means of communication before the holding of the General Meeting shall be rendered ineffective by the disposal of the shares conferring such rights.
- Shareholders shall be solely responsible for the safekeeping of their electronic signature.
- Shareholders who are legal entities and those who are not residents of Spain should consult the Shareholders' Helpdesk to examine the possibility of applying, on a case by case basis, the general procedures for voting and granting of proxies by remote communications channels. Similarly, in the event that the shareholder is a legal entity, the Company must be notified in a reliable manner of any modification or revocation of the powers held by the representative of such shareholder, and the Company declines any liability until such notification is made.

5.- Suspension of electronic systems and interconnection failures

The Company reserves the right to modify, suspend, cancel or restrict the electronic delegation and voting mechanisms when so required or imposed for technical or security reasons. Should any of these events occur, a timely announcement will be posted on the Company's corporate website.
