Rating Action: Moody's upgrades Class A Notes rating in BBVA CONSUMO 12, FT, a Spanish consumer loans transaction

16 Jan 2024

Madrid, January 16, 2024 -- Moody's Investors Service ("Moody's") has today upgraded the rating of the Class A Notes in BBVA CONSUMO 12, FT. The rating action reflects the increased levels of credit enhancement and better than expected collateral performance for the affected Notes.

Moody's affirmed the rating of the Class B Notes that had sufficient credit enhancement to maintain their current rating.

...EUR2850M Class A Notes, Upgraded to Aa2 (sf); previously on Mar 16, 2023 Definitive Rating Assigned Aa3 (sf)

...EUR150M Class B Notes, Affirmed B1 (sf); previously on Mar 16, 2023 Definitive Rating Assigned B1 (sf)

RATINGS RATIONALE

The rating action is prompted by an increase in credit enhancement for the affected tranche and decreased key collateral assumption, namely the default probability assumption, due to better than expected collateral performance.

Increase in Available Credit Enhancement:

Sequential amortization led to the increase in the credit enhancement available in this transaction.

For instance, the credit enhancement for the Class A Notes increased to 12.15% from 10% since closing.

Revision of Key Collateral Assumptions:

As part of the rating action, Moody's reassessed its default probability assumption for the portfolio reflecting the collateral performance to date.

The performance of the transaction has continued to improve since closing. Total delinquencies have increased since closing, but are still at a very low value with 90 days plus arrears currently standing at 0.23% of current pool balance. Cumulative defaults currently stand at 0.30% of original pool balance.

The current default probability assumption is 4.5% of the current portfolio balance, which translates into a decrease of the default probability assumption on original balance to 4.0% from 4.5%. Moody's maintained the assumption for the fixed recovery rate at 15% and the portfolio credit enhancement at 17%.

The principal methodology used in these ratings was "Moody's Approach to Rating Consumer Loan-Backed ABS" published in December 2022 and available at <https://ratings.moodys.com/rmc-documents/396935>. Alternatively, please see the Rating Methodologies page on <https://ratings.moodys.com> for a copy of this methodology.

Factors that would lead to an upgrade or downgrade of the ratings:

Factors or circumstances that could lead to an upgrade of the ratings include: (1) performance of the underlying collateral that is better than Moody's expected, (2) an increase in available credit enhancement, (3) improvements in the credit quality of the transaction counterparties, and (4) a decrease in sovereign risk.

Factors or circumstances that could lead to a downgrade of the ratings include: (1) an increase in sovereign risk, (2) performance of the underlying collateral that is worse than Moody's expected, (3) deterioration in the Notes' available credit enhancement, and (4) deterioration in the credit quality of the transaction counterparties.

REGULATORY DISCLOSURES

For further specification of Moody's key rating assumptions and sensitivity analysis, see the sections Methodology Assumptions and Sensitivity to Assumptions in the disclosure form. Moody's Rating Symbols and Definitions can be found on <https://ratings.moodys.com/rating-definitions>.

The analysis relies on an assessment of collateral characteristics to determine the collateral loss distribution, that is, the function that correlates to an assumption about the likelihood of occurrence to each level of possible losses in the collateral. As a second step, Moody's evaluates each possible collateral loss scenario using a model that replicates the relevant structural features to derive payments and therefore the ultimate potential losses for each rated instrument. The loss a rated instrument incurs in each collateral loss scenario, weighted by assumptions about the likelihood of events in that scenario occurring, results in the expected loss of the rated instrument.
