According to statistics published by ComScore in June, Atresmedia's Digital business continued to head the internet rankings for audiovisual groups, with an average of 26.1 million unique visitors, and it was the sixth most visited website in Spain. At 30 June 2023, the ATRESplayer Premium pay-TV platform had a total of 539,000 subscribers.

Atresmedia Radio's stations, Onda Cero, Europa FM and Melodía FM, maintained their position with 2.8 million listeners, according to the latest EGM study (2nd 2023 wave).

1.2 The economic climate and the market

In July, the FUNCAS panel of experts published its bimonthly forecast on the Spanish economy. The panellists consider that the economy will grow by 2.1% in 2023, 0.4 percentage points more than forecast in their previous report and outperforming 2019. The National Statistics Institute revised the figure for the fourth quarter of 2022 upwards. This, plus the better than expected result in the first quarter of 2023, led FUNCAS to put up its forecast for the whole year.

This growth is mainly driven by exports, as consumer demand and investment in machinery and equipment will both shrink in the year. High inflation and rising interest rates mean that domestic consumption will account for a smaller proportion of GDP than initially estimated.

The Government of Spain estimates that the economy will grow by 2.1% in 2023, in line with the FUNCAS forecast. The Bank of Spain predicts growth of 2.3% while the IMF and OECD forecast growth of 2.5% and 2.1%, respectively.

GDP will grow by 1.8% in 2024, according to FUNCAS. This forecast is slightly lower than that announced by the Bank of Spain, the Government and international bodies including the IMF and the European Commission.

The rate at which inflation is going up has eased over recent months. The latest figure, published in June, was 1.9%, the lowest since 2021. However, core inflation (excluding energy and fresh food) remained at 5.9%. The FUNCAS panel estimates that the average CPI for 2023 will be 3.6% (0.4 percentage points lower than its previous forecast) while core inflation will be higher at 5.7%.

Rising inflation continues to be the main driver of higher interest rates. The official European Central Bank rate has gone up by a point in 2023 to 4%. The FUNCAS panel believes that the Euribor will drop back to 3.5% by December 2024 from 4% in December 2023.

Turning to the labour market, the unemployment rate in 2023 is expected to be 12.6%, falling to 12.2% in 2024. The Government is more optimistic, forecasting 12.2% and 10.9% in 2023 and 2024, respectively, while other bodies' forecasts are more in line with the FUNCAS figures.

The same experts believe that the budget deficit will be around 4.1% of GDP in 2023 (3.5% in 2024).

In the advertising market meanwhile, according to internal estimates, spending rose by 2.8% in the six months to June 2023, compared with the same period in 2022. In the markets in which the Atresmedia Group operates, television advertising shrank by 3.7% while radio and internet advertising grew by 6.9% and 4.4%, respectively.

Atresmedia Cine released four films in the first half of the year: “La niña de la comunión”, “Momias” (the highest grossing Spanish film in the first half of 2023), “Los buenos modales” and “Como Dios manda”, while films such as “A todo tren 2” remained on release. Personnel costs and other operating expenses grew due to inflation and also because of the acquisition and development of new businesses.
