17 Ratings From Spanish, Portuguese, Dutch, And U.K. RMBS Transactions Placed On Watch Negative

May 6, 2020

Overview

- On May 1, 2020, we revised our residential mortgage market outlooks for 13 European jurisdictions to reflect changing economic conditions and increased credit risk.
- These residential mortgage market outlook revisions follow our macroeconomic updates and our current projection of the impact that COVID-19 is likely to have on certain European economies and their residential mortgage markets.
- This affected our 'B' to 'AA+' foreclosure frequency assumptions for the archetypal pool in each impacted country.
- Following the application of all our relevant structured finance criteria, we have placed on CreditWatch negative our ratings on 17 tranches in 14 Spanish, Portuguese, Dutch, and U.K. RMBS transactions.

MADRID (S&P Global Ratings) May 6, 2020--S&P Global Ratings today placed on CreditWatch negative its ratings on 17 tranches in 14 Spanish, Portuguese, Dutch, and U.K. RMBS transactions (see list below).

Today's rating actions follow the May 1, 2020, update of our residential mortgage market outlooks for 13 European jurisdictions. These updates followed our macroeconomic updates and our current projection of the impact that COVID-19 is likely to have on certain European economies and their residential mortgage markets (see "Residential Mortgage Market Outlooks Updated For 13 European Jurisdictions Following Revised Economic Forecasts," published on May 1, 2020). This affected our 'B' to 'AA+' foreclosure frequency assumptions for the archetypal pool in each impacted country.

Based on our current projection of the likely impact on Europe (see "Economic Research: Europe Braces For A Deeper Recession In 2020," published April 20, 2020), we have applied our relevant criteria to revise the 'B' assumptions for an archetypal pool in each affected country. These revisions reflect our views of various factors, including:

- The increased unemployment level forecasts given consumer demand constraints related to COVID-19;
- The level of government support related to the health pandemic in each jurisdiction, including fiscal support to both businesses and borrowers, which should offset some income curtailment;

17 Ratings From Spanish, Portuguese, Dutch, And U.K. RMBS Transactions Placed On Watch Negative

- The implementation of temporary forbearance plans for mortgagors, for which some forbearance may manifest in increased credit losses affecting the pools backing RMBS.

We have also updated our related guidance and criteria to include our explanation of how we analyze payment holidays that are not contractual, which create additional liquidity risks and arise from forbearance initiatives led by governments or lenders, or both.

For RMBS tranches rated 'B-' and below, in addition to the above factors, we apply our 'CCC' criteria (see "Criteria For Assigning 'CCC+', 'CCC', 'CCC-', And 'CC' Ratings," published on Oct. 1, 2012). Our rating analysis makes additional considerations before assigning ratings in the 'CCC' category or 'B-' ratings, in particular collateral performance and levels of available credit enhancement.

S&P Global Ratings acknowledges a high degree of uncertainty about the rate of spread and peak of the coronavirus outbreak. Some government authorities estimate the pandemic will peak about midyear, and we are using this assumption in assessing the economic and credit implications. We believe the measures adopted to contain COVID-19 have pushed the global economy into recession (see our macroeconomic and credit updates here: www.spglobal.com/ratings). As the situation evolves, we will update our assumptions and estimates accordingly.

Following the application of our criteria, we have placed on CreditWatch negative 17 ratings in 14 transactions. We will conduct a full credit and cash flow analysis to determine the final impact of our revised foreclosure frequency assumptions on these transactions. We will seek to resolve the CreditWatch placements within the next 90 days.

We will continue to review the ratings on our remaining transactions in light of these macroeconomic events and transaction performance. We will take further rating actions, including CreditWatch placements, as we deem appropriate.
