DIVIDEND POLICY

Amadeus is planning to resume the dividend payout in 2023 with respect to the year-end results 2022 under the current dividend policy. The final dividend would be agreed in accordance with the proposal for the application of results that the Board determines when drawing-up the 2022 annual accounts, for submission to the General Shareholders' Meeting to be held in June 2023.

The dividend policy in force provides for a payout proposal of between 40% and 50% of the consolidated profit for the year. This policy could be altered by different factors, such as market forecasts or conditions, its financial circumstances, the evolution of the Company's business, its cash needs and obligations in relation to the financial debt, in which case the appropriate communication would be made for its knowledge and effects
