RATING ACTION COMMENTARY

Fitch Upgrades 2 Tranches of Spanish BBVA Auto ABS; off Rating Watch Positive

Mon 25 Mar, 2024 - 12:10 ET

Fitch Ratings - Madrid - 25 Mar 2024: Fitch Ratings has upgraded two tranches of BBVA CONSUMER AUTO 2022-1 FT and removed them from Rating Watch Positive (RWP). It has affirmed the ratings on all the other tranches of that transaction as well as of BBVA Consumer Auto 2023-1 FT, which the agency has reviewed at the same time given their similar collateral.

VIEW ADDITIONAL RATING DETAILSTRANSACTION SUMMARY

Both transactions are static securitisations of fully amortising car loans originated in Spain by Banco Bilbao Vizcaya Argentaria, S.A. (BBVA, also seller; BBB+/Stable/ F2) to purchase new and used passenger cars.

KEY RATING DRIVERS

Updated Approach to Interest Deferrals: Fitch has revised its analytical approach to the interest deferability of notes as per its updated Global Structured Finance Rating Criteria published on 19 January 2024. Fitch may now assign ratings up to 'AA+sf' (versus prior 'A+sf') to notes where it assesses that interest deferrals will be fully repaid pursuant to the terms of the documents and by the legal final maturity without causing an event of default. Interest payments for all rated notes for both transactions are non-deferrable when they are the most senior tranche.

The revised rating approach drives the upgrades of BBVA CONSUMER AUTO ABS 2022-1 FT class B and C notes, which were previously constrained by temporary interest deferrals when the class was not the most senior tranche.

Recalibrated Default and Recovery Assumptions: Fitch has recalibrated the base-case default and recovery assumptions for BBVA CONSUMER AUTO ABS 2022-1 FT to 3.5% and 50% from 4% and 60%, respectively. The revisions are driven by the transaction's observed and projected performance, Spain's economic outlook and updated historical data provided by BBVA in 2023 for the analysis of BBVA Consumer Auto ABS 2023-1 FT, which carried the same - unchanged - asset assumptions. Gross cumulative defaults, as a share of their initial portfolio balance, remained below 0.9% for both transactions, as per their latest investor reports of February 2024.

Aligned Asset Loss Assumptions: For both transactions, Fitch has maintained the 'AAAsf' default multiple and recovery haircut at 4.75x and 50%, respectively. Under the resulting 'AA+sf' rating case commensurate with the class A notes' rating, the updated portfolio remaining life 'AA+sf' loss rate for both deals is 10.3%.

Stable Credit Enhancement: We expect credit enhancement (CE) to remain stable as the rated notes continue amortising pro-rata. Under its central scenario, for both deals, Fitch views the key switch to sequential triggers as unlikely to be breached in the short-to-medium term, given portfolio performance expectations compared with defined key performance triggers.

Tail Risk Mitigated: The tail risk posed by the pro-rata paydown is mitigated by a mandatory switch to sequential amortisation when the portfolio balance falls below 10% of its initial balance, together with the absence of back-loaded exposure such as balloon payments.

Counterparty Arrangements Cap Ratings: The maximum achievable rating for both transactions is 'AA+sf', in line with Fitch's counterparty criteria, due to the minimum eligibility rating thresholds defined, for both deals, for the transaction account bank of 'A-' and for the hedge provider of 'A-' or 'F1', which are insufficient to support 'AAAsf' ratings.

Payment Interruption Risk (PIR) Mitigated: In the event of servicer disruption, we deem PIR on the class A to C notes for BBVA CONSUMER AUTO ABS 2022-1 FT, and on the class A and B notes for BBVA Consumer Auto ABS 2023-1 FT, mitigated by the combination of liquidity protection (for the class A to C notes) and the minimum ratings of 'BBB' or 'F2' contractually defined for the portfolio servicer, which is classified as an operational continuity bank (OCB).

Liquidity protection is not available for BBVA CONSUMER AUTO ABS 2022-1 FT for the class D and E notes. For BBVA Consumer Auto ABS 2023-1 FT, it is not available for the class D notes, and deemed insufficient for the class C notes. As per Fitch's criteria, PIR for these notes is mitigated up to 'A+sf' ratings due to funds being held for less than two days in the portfolio servicer's account.

RATING SENSITIVITIES

Factors that Could, Individually or Collectively, Lead to Negative Rating Action/Downgrade

-Long-term asset performance deterioration such as recoveries that are lower than our base-case expectations, increased delinquencies or reduced portfolio yield, which could be driven by changes in portfolio characteristics, macro-economic conditions, business practices or the legislative landscape. For instance, a 10% increase of defaults combined with a 10% decrease of recoveries may lead to downgrades of up to three notches for BBVA CONSUMER AUTO ABS 2022-1 FT and up to two notches for BBVA Consumer Auto ABS 2023-1 FT

Factors that Could, Individually or Collectively, Lead to Positive Rating Action/Upgrade

- Increasing CE ratios as the transaction deleverages to fully compensate the credit losses and cash flow stresses commensurate with higher ratings could lead to upgrades. The transaction is amortising pro-rata and the increase in CE is not expected before the switch to sequential triggers are breached

- For the senior notes rated 'AA+sf', modified transaction account bank and derivative provider minimum eligibility rating thresholds compatible with 'AAAsf' ratings, as per Fitch's Structured Finance and Covered Bonds Counterparty Rating Criteria

USE OF THIRD PARTY DUE DILIGENCE PURSUANT TO SEC RULE 17G -10

Form ABS Due Diligence-15E was not provided to, or reviewed by, Fitch in relation to this rating action.

DATA ADEQUACY

Fitch has checked the consistency and plausibility of the information it has received about the performance of the asset pools and the transactions. Fitch has not reviewed the results of any third-party assessment of the asset portfolio information or conducted a review of origination files as part of its ongoing monitoring.

Prior to the transactions' closing, Fitch reviewed the results of a third-party assessment conducted on the asset portfolio information and concluded that there were no findings that affected the rating analysis.

Prior to the transactions' closing, Fitch conducted a review of a small targeted sample of the originator's origination files and found the information contained in the reviewed files to be adequately consistent with the originator's policies and practices and the other information provided to the agency about the asset portfolio.

Overall, and together with any assumptions referred to above, Fitch's assessment of the information relied upon for the agency's rating analysis according to its applicable rating methodologies indicates that it is adequately reliable.

The principal sources of information used in the analysis are described in the Applicable Criteria.

ESG CONSIDERATIONS

The highest level of ESG credit relevance is a score of '3', unless otherwise disclosed in this section. A score of '3' means ESG issues are credit-neutral or have only a minimal credit impact on the entity, either due to their nature or the way in which they are being managed by the entity. Fitch's ESG Relevance Scores are not inputs in the rating process; they are an observation on the relevance and materiality of ESG factors in the rating decision. In issuing and maintaining its ratings and in making other reports (including forecast information), Fitch relies on factual information it receives from issuers and underwriters and from other sources Fitch believes to be credible. Fitch conducts a reasonable investigation of the factual information relied upon by it in accordance with its ratings methodology, and obtains reasonable verification of that information from independent sources, to the extent such sources are available for a given security or in a given jurisdiction. The manner of Fitch's factual investigation and the scope of the third-party verification it obtains will vary depending on the nature of the rated security and its issuer, the requirements and practices in the jurisdiction in which the rated security is offered and sold and/or the issuer is located, the availability and nature of relevant public information, access to the management of the issuer and its advisers, the availability of pre-existing third-party verifications such as audit reports, agreed-upon procedures letters, appraisals, actuarial reports, engineering reports, legal opinions and other reports provided by third parties, the availability of independent and competent third-party verification sources with respect to the particular security or in the particular jurisdiction of the issuer, and a variety of other factors. Users of Fitch's ratings and reports should understand that neither an enhanced factual investigation nor any third-party verification can ensure that all of the information Fitch relies on in connection with a rating or a report will be accurate and complete. Ultimately, the issuer and its advisers are responsible for the accuracy of the information they provide to Fitch and to the market in offering documents and other reports. In issuing its ratings and its reports, Fitch must rely on the work of experts, including independent auditors with respect to financial statements and attorneys with respect to legal and tax matters. Further, ratings and forecasts of financial and other information are inherently forward-looking and embody assumptions and predictions about future events that by their nature cannot be verified as facts. As a result, despite any verification of current facts, ratings and forecasts can be affected by future events or conditions that were not anticipated at the time a rating or forecast was issued or affirmed. Fitch Ratings makes routine, commonly-accepted adjustments to reported financial data in accordance with the relevant criteria and/or industry standards to provide financial metric consistency for entities in the same sector or asset class.

The complete span of best- and worst-case scenario credit ratings for all rating categories ranges from 'AAA' to 'D'. Fitch also provides information on best-case rating upgrade scenarios and worst-case rating downgrade scenarios (defined as the 99th percentile of rating transitions, measured in each direction) for international credit ratings, based on historical performance. A simple average across asset classes presents best-case upgrades of 4 notches and worst-case downgrades of 8 notches at the 99th percentile.
