OTHER RELEVANT INFORMATION

The Texas Transportation Commission (USA) is scheduled to meet today 28 March to authorize the creation of a transportation corporation and the possible early termination of the concession contract for the SH-288 toll road, currently owned by ACS Group and Abertis, which has been operating with notable success since its entry into operation in November 2020.

It has also announced that prior to the decision, it will open a six-month period to negotiate a new agreement with the current concessionaire to avoid such early termination and that reflects the interests of both the State of Texas and the investing shareholders.
